ExamDiff Pro: Professional Approach to Tracking Differences in Files and Folders

Powerful and Easy to Use Utility to Visually Compare Your Files and Directories

Thousand Oaks, CA (March, 2007) – PrestoSoft announces today the release of ExamDiff Pro 3.5, a powerful tool that allows you to visually compare your files and directories. ExamDiff Pro lets you easily track differences both in text and binary files and as such is useful for anyone, from a standard user to a program developer. The differences, such as additions, deletions and changes, are highlighted with different colors, and not just at the level of lines, but also at the level of words or characters. ExamDiff Pro features full Unicode support, and files can be edited right in the program's comparison panes. You can also copy, rename and delete files or directories you are comparing.

ExamDiff Pro's easy navigation through differences in compared files makes it extremely convenient for anyone who needs to monitor changes in files and folders, synchronize files (while being able to add manual synchronization points), and quickly and conveniently navigate through changes. The file differences found with the help of ExamDiff Pro can be saved in a standard UNIX DIFF file or to a dynamic HTML web page, which you can either share with your colleagues or keep for future reference.

A regular computer user will find a very useful ability to create directory snapshots for later comparison or archiving. In ExamDiff Pro, diff reports can be both printed and print previewed. Developers will surely appreciate a built-in binary file comparison feature of ExamDiff Pro that makes it possible to compare executable files (DLLs, EXEs, etc.), as well as Advanced Ignore options that let you focus on the most important source code elements instead of stumbling over programming language comments or other irrelevant elements. Another useful feature is word wrapping, which simplifies text handling. ExamDiff Pro's support for optionally installed plug-ins that let you preprocess files prior to comparison greatly widens the program's functionality. Such plug-ins, for example, allow a developer to compare a local website to an FTP server, or a writer to compare Word, Excel and PDF documents.

ExamDiff Pro has an interface that is easy to both understand and operate, featuring extensive drag and drop support and full customization. ExamDiff Pro is integrated with Windows Explorer, and advanced users will surely make use of an extensive command line interface.

If you have files and folders that you want to compare, there is no better way to do this than by using ExamDiff Pro, a powerful and extremely effective tool with a user-friendly interface. Whether your task is to synchronize files between your PC and a flash drive, track the differences in two versions of your documents, or figure out what bytes got changed in a Windows DLL, you can rely on ExamDiff Pro to cope with the job.
